Focused on Canada's long-term growth opportunities

What's the strategy?

Canadian All Cap Pure Growth Equity* invests primarily in medium- to large-cap Canadian stocks with above-average growth potential to achieve long-term capital appreciation.

*This portfolio strategy is a pure Canadian version of the Canadian All Cap Growth Equity (GWLIM) portfolio ($2.8 billion AUM as of Sept. 30, 2018 with a 1970 inception date) and is exclusively available as the London Life Pathways Canadian Equity Fund through Quadrus Investment Services Ltd.

What's the approach?

It follows a growth-oriented management style that blends top-down macro-analysis with bottom-up fundamental stock research. Within well-defined risk parameters, the portfolio manager seeks out companies across the market cap spectrum, and takes meaningful positions in select Canadian companies when opportunities present.

Why invest in this portfolio strategy?

Ideal for investors seeking exposure to Canadian equities with strong long-term growth potential. The portfolio is well diversified across sectors and offers a portfolio of Canadian companies with higher growth potential than the broad market. Typical portfolio characteristics include higher return on equity and stronger growth momentum than its benchmark, the S&P/TSX Composite Index. This is a diversified Canadian equity portfolio that tends to have lower volatility than a Canadian small- or mid-cap portfolio.

Typical portfolio characteristics

Here's what you can expect to see from the Pure Canadian All Cap Growth Equity strategy when compared to its peers, or its Canadian benchmark, the S&P/TSX Composite Index:

- Outperformance in rising market conditions and defensive positioning in down market conditions
- Good diversification through exposure to at least 8 of the 11 sectors
- An average of 40 to 75 holdings

Portfolio manager's quarterly commentary

As at June 28, 2019

Market review

World equity markets produced modest positive returns in the second quarter of 2019. Stocks were supported by dovish central banks and falling interest rates. With inflation remaining contained, markets are pricing in rate cuts from the U.S. Federal Reserve over the coming months due to continued trade tensions and decelerating economic growth. Equity markets ebbed and flowed with trade developments –particularly evident during May when markets sold off after U.S.-China trade talks broke down. The S&P/TSX Composite Index returned 2.6% (total return) in the second quarter. Information Technology was the top performing sector in Canada, largely due to very strong returns from Shopify. The heavyweight Financials sector outperformed the broad market despite another mixed earnings season from the Canadian banks. The Materials sector, under pressure for much of the quarter, bounced back following a June rally in gold stocks. Gold prices spiked higher on the prospect of lower policy rates in the U.S. and continued geopolitical tensions. Health Care was the worst performing sector, primarily due to a pull-back in cannabis stocks. The Energy sector also underperformed, with exploration and production companies suffering from weaker oil and gas prices.

Portfolio performance

The fund posted a positive return that slightly underperformed the S&P/TSX Composite Index on a gross return basis over the period. Strong stock selection within the Industrials and Financials sectors was beneficial to performance as was not allocating anything to cannabis stocks. Fund performance was negatively impacted by an underweight position in the gold sector, which staged a strong rally late in the quarter. Additionally, stock selection within the Consumer Discretionary, Real Estate and Information Technology sectors was slightly detrimental to performance.

Portfolio activity

We added Parkland Fuel (PKI) to the fund during the quarter. The company's relatively consistent free cash flow supports continued dividend growth, balance sheet deleveraging and corporate growth by acquisition initiatives (recently acquired a 75% stake in SOL Ltd. that increased exposure to the Caribbean). We view their current valuation as attractive, given its risk versus return profile. Investment in MTY Food Group was eliminated from the fund during the quarter due to an array of concerns, namely the recent acquisition of Papa Murphy's (a #5 player in a very competitive space), accelerating declines in same-store sales, rent pressures in some country segments and labour shortages in the Quebec region. Holdings in several energy-related names, such as Stantec, Methanex and Bank of Nova Scotia, were trimmed slightly while we added to our holding in Intact Financial and TD Bank, where we see compelling growth and reasonable valuation.

Positioning & outlook

Our outlook on Canadian equities is essentially unchanged from the end of Q1. Accommodative stances by the FOMC, ECB, PBOC and the Bank of Canada have clearly benefitted equity market valuations. Global growth continues to falter: corporate earnings are decelerating, and valuations are less compelling than several months ago. This leads us to be cautious in our market outlook. We'll continue to seek out compelling growth opportunities in the months ahead – ideally at more favourable multiples. At the end of the reporting period, we are overweight in key growth sectors when compared to the S&P/TSX Composite Index: Information Technology, Industrials and Communication Services. The fund's key underweights are in the Materials, Health Care and Energy sectors.
